

1. How to Access to Foreign Market

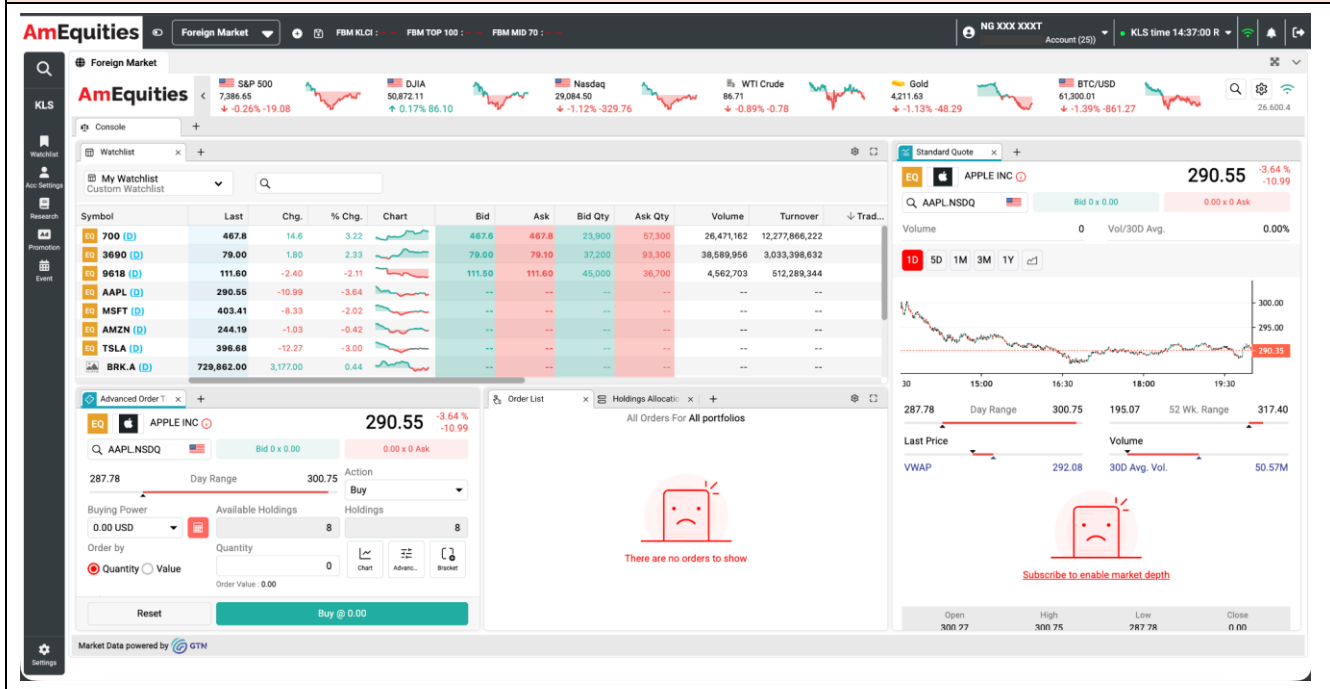

Step 1: Login to AmEquities Web Platform

Step 2: From the menu drop down list, select the 'Foreign Market'

Final Result: Foreign Market page

2. How to View Limit

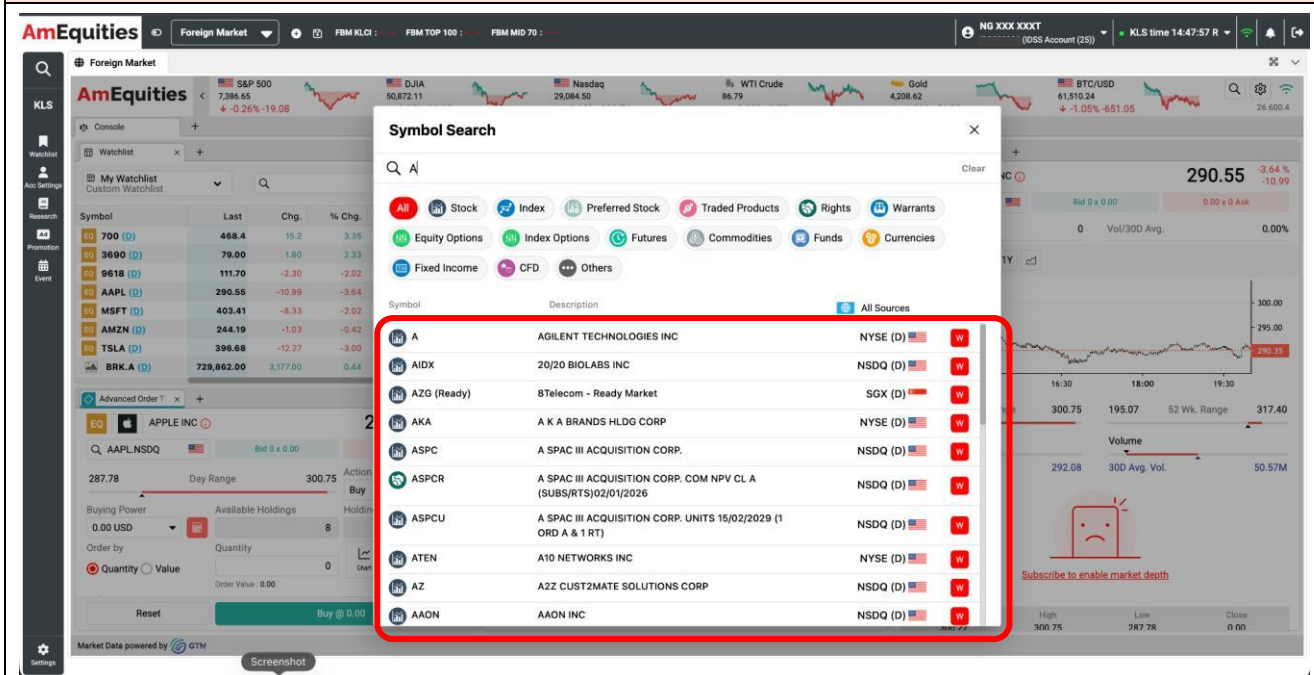

Step 1: Click 'search' icon on the right top corner

The screenshot shows the AmEquities trading platform interface. The top navigation bar includes the AmEquities logo, a dropdown menu for 'Foreign Market', and various market indices like S&P 500, DJIA, Nasdaq, and WTI Crude. On the right side of the top bar, there is a search icon (magnifying glass) highlighted with a red box. Below the top bar, the interface is divided into several sections: a 'Watchlist' on the left, a 'Standard Quote' for 'TENCENT HOLDINGS LIMITED - Main Normal Market' on the right, and a 'Buy' button at the bottom. The 'Standard Quote' section shows the current price of 436.6 and a volume of 21,096,483. The 'Buy' button is labeled 'Buy @ 437'.

Step 2: Search for a counter

The screenshot shows the AmEquities trading platform interface with the 'Symbol Search' dialog box open. The search bar in the dialog box is highlighted with a red box. The dialog box contains a search bar with the text 'Search' and a 'Clear' button. Below the search bar, there are several categories of financial instruments: All, Stock, Index, Preferred Stock, Traded Products, Rights, Warrants, Equity Options, Index Options, Futures, Commodities, Funds, Currencies, Fixed Income, CFD, and Others. The background of the interface shows the same market data and watchlist as the previous screenshot, but the 'Symbol Search' dialog box is overlaid on top.

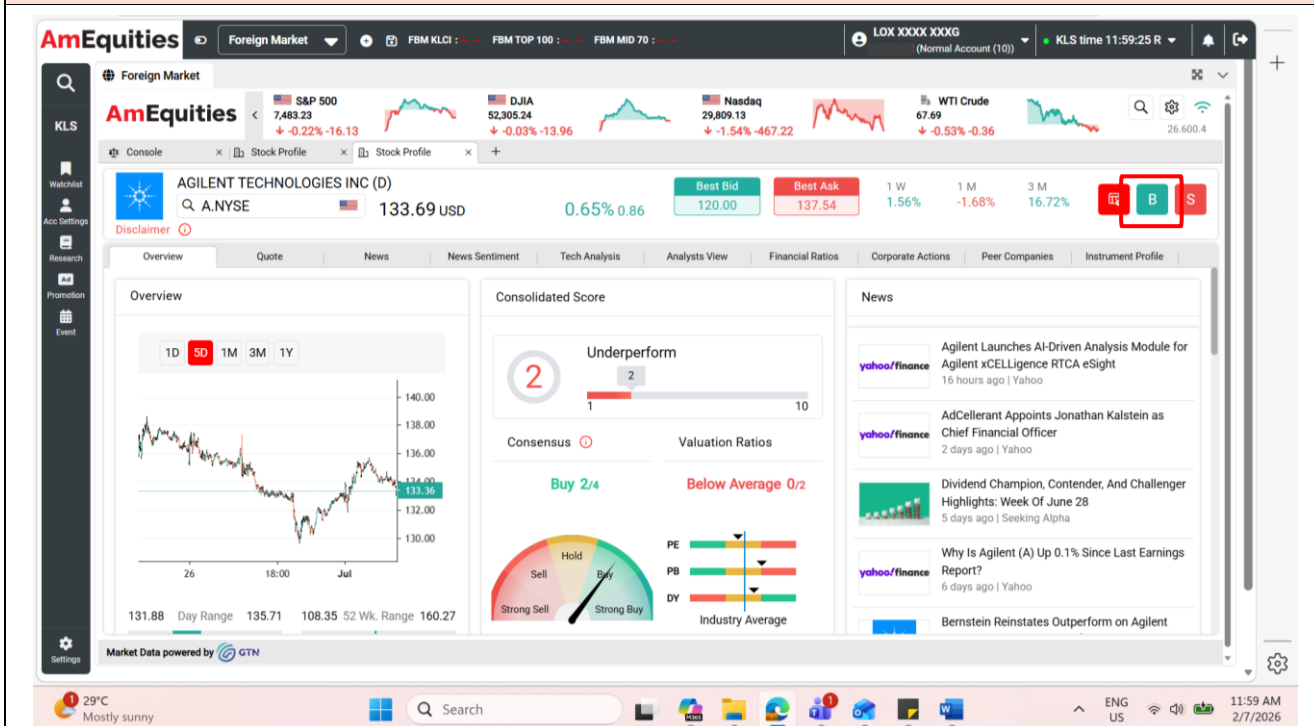

Step 3: Select the counter

The screenshot shows the AmEquities Symbol Search interface. A red box highlights the search results table. The table lists various stocks with their symbols, descriptions, and exchange codes. The 'B' button is highlighted in the top right corner of the search results table.
